DETAILED ACTION

This application is a continuation in part of 09/784,859 filed February 20, 2001, now US Patent 6,596,541 (20020106629), which claims priority to Provisional Application 60/244,665 filed October 31, 2000.

Claims 1-50 are pending.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-14, 34, 35, 39-45, drawn to a method of modifying the variable region of an immunoglobulin gene in a cell through the use of homologous recombination, classified in class 435, subclass 455.
- II. Claims 15-25, 29-33, 48-50, drawn to a transgenic non-human organism and cells, classified in for example class 800, subclass 8 (for transgenic organism).
- III. Claims 26-28, 46, 47, drawn to an immunoglobulin, classified in class 530, subclass 387.1.
- IV. Claims 36-38, drawn to a method of making an antibody, classified in class 435, subclass 69.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and IV are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the inventions are drawn to two materially different methods that have different method steps requiring different starting materials to practice and resulting in different end products.

Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to two materially different products, in this case an antibody and a non-human animal.

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the cell or non-human organism can be made by different methods known in the art.

Inventions IV and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case an immunoglobulin can be made by different methods known in the art.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and the search required for one group is not required or coextensive with that of any other group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
